

Better Streets

London

mode transport planning was appointed to undertake some initial training on the development of Transport for London's (TfL) Better Streets initiative with an emphasis on opportunities for de-cluttering and improving the public realm. The work is being progressed via one of TfL's term contractors, CVU.

Client:

Transport for London

mode

transport planning

modetransport.co.uk

Better Streets, London

Supporting Opus Land in their distribution and warehousing locations.

TfL has been at the forefront of methods for improving the public realm including the successful removal of significant lengths of pedestrian guard railing throughout London in recent years. TfL were keen to build on this initiative and mode was considered to have the necessary broad experience based on previous work in this area.

mode has also been asked to put together a technical guide for extending the initiative using the lessons learnt from the initial study.

Specifically, this work involved:

- + travel plans
- + accessibility studies
- + sustainable transport studies
- + transport policy review

For more information on this project please contact:

📞 020 3848 9719 ✉ london@modetransport.co.uk

transport planning

